

YOU are invited to join us for a relaxing weekend of song, performance, workshops, and discussions.

Featured presenters and performers include:

- * Venerable Dhammananda Bhikkuni, Thailand's first female monk
 - * Mei Chern, singer & songwriter from Malaysia
 - * Kristen Beifus, Skin Deep tribal belly dance troupe, Seattle, USA
 - * Teresa Wang and Naiyana Prapaiwong, yoginis
 - * Shan and Thai traditional dancers
- ...and many more!

A weekend festival to celebrate women's wisdom, creativity, and talents

December 18th
IWP center, Mae Rim

If you are a woman interested in sharing your talents through workshop facilitation or musical performance, please contact us NOW! ginger@womenforpeaceandjustice.org

People of all genders and ages are welcome to attend.

Overnight accommodation can be arranged to enjoy morning meditation and yoga overlooking the rice fields.

Proceeds from ticket sales will provide scholarships for women to attend IWP's newest program, Buddhist Education for Social Transformation (BEST)

For more details, a schedule as it unfolds, and information about BEST, visit www.womenforpeaceandjustice.org

International Women's Partnership for Peace and Justice